St Paul's Way Trust School is seeking to appoint an inspirational Learning Support Assistant to join the Primary teaching team in our Outstanding all through school.

The Primary Phase of the school opened in September 2014 and has recently moved into brand new purpose built accommodation. The school is growing each year and, as a result, needs to extend its Learning Support Team. This is an exciting time to join St Paul's Way Foundation School.

We seek either an experienced, skilled and highly motivated LSA or an ambitious graduate who is looking to develop their school-based experience prior to embarking on a career in teaching. You will be keen to take advantage of all the opportunities presented by working in a dynamic and innovative organisation which has the advantage of partnerships with secondary colleagues, world leading Universities and Corporate Trust partners. Professor Brian Cox OBE is our Patron. We are also a National Teaching School

Working within this exciting organisation, you will be a practitioner who is passionate about the entitlement of every young person to an inspiring education. The successful candidate will have an unwavering belief in the potential of every pupil to succeed and have a creative approach to school.

You will embrace the professional development opportunities afforded by working in a forward thinking organisation.

SLT are available to take calls prior to application, so we can tell you about all we have on offer:

- Pupils who are fully engaged in their learning
- Our supportive, creative and dynamic Senior Leadership Team, Governors and Trust Partners
- An exceptionally well-resourced school in brand new accommodation.
- Tailor-made CPD opportunities to enhance your professional development
- Supportive and enthusiastic parents

St Paul's Way Foundation School is a founding member of the newly formed University Schools Trust.

Please note: we do not accept CVs alone.
