Royal Greenwich
Trust School

Royal Greenwich Trust School, part of the University Schools Trust, is an expanding start-up 11-18 school in the heart of Royal Greenwich.

In 2017, RGTS was established with an initial cohort of year 7 students and a sixth form provision.

This year, we opened our £14 million new wing and moved into the next stage of the school's growth as our inaugural cohort transitioned into Key Stage 4.

Our continued expansion affords us the opportunity to increase our staff team and presents an exciting opportunity for the right candidates to play a significant role in shaping the future of our vibrant learning community.

September 2021 sees our school fully staffed as we welcome our final year group into the school and this appointment marks the final stage of our recruitment in securing a full complement of staff.

University Schools Trust (UST) is a unique partnership of six world-leading universities and five sector-leading bodies who are working together to deliver a shared vision of inclusive, high-quality and transformational education.

We want to hear from you if you are:

- Committed to providing an inclusive, transformational education for all students.
- Passionate about developing and working within a culture of academic excellence.
- Motivated to contribute directly to the growth and development of a thriving secondary school.

Working with us guarantees the opportunity to:

- Be an integral part of a growing school with potential for leadership and career development.
- Develop links with our wider UST network for CPD and collaborative practice.

Interested candidates are encouraged to arrange an informal discussion about the role and/or to visit the school. These can be organised via the HR team:
