Your role

You will lead and manage programmes and projects within the Digital Transformation department.

An active member of the Director's wider leadership team, your contribution will have an impact upon the practical implementation of the #1Hounslow transformation programme and the delivery of the Digital Strategy.

You are a Digital and IT leader, with a responsibility to embrace and lead change, be outcome-focused and put Hounslow residents at the very heart of everything we do and every decision we take. You will live and breathe our values and behaviours.

Whether managing staff or heading up a technical or functional specialism, the insight and expertise you bring will explicitly benefit Hounslow residents. You will go beyond your professional discipline and work across boundaries, within the organisation and beyond.

You will hold key operational relationships with suppliers and partners providing digital solutions and services. You will have good commercial awareness and understand the impact of business change on budgets, resources and services.

What you'll do

- Lead, manage and develop a team that manages the delivery of digital and IT projects and programmes.
- Line manage a number of project managers, providing support, advice and guidance to ensure a consistently high quality approach to delivery.
- Directly manage the delivery of one or more strategic programmes of work from inception through to transition to service, ensuring that the solution meets user needs.
- Maintain a detailed understanding of the digital strategy and project portfolio and how the set of projects being delivered in your team contributes to that vision.
- Work with project delivery and support colleagues to maintain the portfolio and to ensure that the priority projects have sound business cases, funding and resources to deliver upon our commitments.
- Develop project and programme approaches, processes and procedures, ensuring they dovetail with the work of the relationship management team and any wider governance requirements.
- Oversee, advise and support the creation of business cases, scope and plans for digital and IT projects.
- Ensure that every project considers non-functional requirements, including operability, security, performance, accessibility, usability, business continuity and disaster recovery.

- Ensure that all projects have appropriate project governance mechanisms and reporting in place at the outset of the project.
- Ensure that risks, issues, assumptions and dependencies are tracked and managed and that any likelihood of deviation from plan outside of agreed tolerance (including time, cost and quality) is raised with stakeholders and managed through project governance.
- Encourage and embed new ways of working on project delivery, including the incorporation of service design and agile approaches, prototyping and the piloting of new products and services.
- Ensure there is successful transition into service of new or changed solutions as a standard part of project delivery.
- Support the rollout of new or changed technology, assisting the business in understanding, adopting and making full use of it.
- Take an overall view on the results of post-implementation reviews, using this information to refine and improve our project and programme approach.
- Empower the team by creating a supportive environment for team members to excel at their roles and develop their careers within the service and wider organisation.
- Assist in the conduct of elections as required

These are the values that drive us

Lead with heart

We're here for the people of Hounslow. We work together with them and for them with care and compassion, with patience and in partnership. We put ourselves in other's shoes, remembering that every person is different, and every interaction is a real moment in their lives. We always feel first.

Harness the mix

We work together, across disciplines and roles. We talk lots, share our insights, our skills and experience. We're not interested in siloes or defensiveness. We're always open to different approaches, we're flexible and ready to adapt. We break down the barriers between our parts and people to unlock the problem-solving power of our amazing mix of minds.

Do new

We need to do things differently if we're going to help Hounslow people thrive in the future. Hard work is important but it's not enough on its own. We need to challenge ourselves to break new ground, invent new approaches, try new ideas, keep moving forward and keep improving. That means being ready to stop doing things we've done before. It means taking on risk and backing each other when we take a leap.

Pass on the power

The world keeps on changing and we need to change with it. We won't be able to adapt fast enough to the future needs of our residents if we stick to old fashioned command and control. We need to hand over responsibility and give people more power to make decisions and take action themselves. It's about being transparent and straightforward. It's about providing tools and support. But most of all, it's about being ready to trust each other to do the right thing.

Be a rock

There's lots to do and people need us. It's up to us to take the initiative. To take responsibility. To stand up and be counted. Everyday. It's about being super focused, effective and efficient. It's about allocating our resources smartly and with good rationale – using data to help guide our decisions. But most of all, it's about having the strength and determination to keep on going through thick and thin.

- You're adept at building relationships at every level in the organisation and can work collaboratively and creatively to address issues and manage delivery-related risk.
- You have a broad understanding of technical and digital solutions, how they are used across the organisation and the impact they have on the lives of our communities.

Let's talk about you

- We are proud that Hounslow is a real community of communities and one of the most culturally diverse areas in the UK. Over 250,000 people live in the borough.
- It's an attractive place to live and work, with miles of river, canals, nature reserves and open spaces. The borough has some of the most beautiful parks and open spaces in London, with no fewer than five historic houses and landscape gardens. Covering 23 square miles, it stretches from Heathrow Airport in the west to Chiswick in the east.
- The borough features modern housing estates, quiet suburbs, green belt villages like Heston and bustling and fashionable cosmopolitan districts such as Chiswick.
- The borough has excellent transport links: the A4 and M4 run through the borough and the area has eight London Underground stations and seven mainline railway stations.
